

Does Cultural and Linguistic Bias Threaten the Validity of Your Language Evaluations?

Dynamic Assessment may be the solution!

 31 bilingual Spanish/English school age children (21 typical, 10 with language disorders)

 Children were given a static vocabulary test and a dynamic assessment of inferential word learning

 The dynamic assessment identified children with language disorders far better than the static test

